

Why do our National Teams go abroad?

Because international training and competition is a prerequisite to gain a competitive advantage.

And now you can have that same advantage.

If you're serious about hockey - then join us - take your game to the next level.

You have never experienced hockey like this before. Top Dutch training - simply the best - with international competition to develop your confidence - cutting edge techniques, drills and strategy to help you stay ahead - and small group sizes of less than 40 players to maximize your experience.

Plus, you'll stay at a four star hotel in Holland right next to our training facility.

Secure, Tested and lots of Fun!

TECHNICAL PROGRAM AND TRAINING

Qualifications: Our technical program is produced & designed by FIH World Coach and former Dutch National Team Coach, Thomas Tichelman, who is also exclusive camp and clinic provider to the European Hockey Federation along with his staff from Holland's National Developmental Program. Top trainers with the highest level coaching qualifications from a National Board that consistently produces World Champions.

Facilities: Our hockey is played entirely on Astroturf, allowing players to take maximum advantage of all stick handling drills and techniques. Our training facilities are first-class. Visit our web site for pictures. www.sport-eurotour.com

Training Standards: Simply unequalled - our Dutch coaches are well known for their technical expertise - the attention to detail and the systematic program design which give all players, at all levels, the tools to take their game to the next level. Our coaches are extremely serious about their coaching performance. Our Dutch coach to player ratio is an unheard of 1:5. Training is limited to only 40 players - with over 500 balls in use - providing an intense workout and maximum exposure to the coaching staff. This is a very intimate, interactive training experience which includes detailed explanation and breakdown of basic skill sets as well as the newest cutting edge techniques - all with expert demonstration.

Unequaled training - anywhere - and you're invited !
